Step-by-step instructions for your spring arrangement

1. Plant the board

Start by attaching the desired quantity and size of acrylic bowls to the rind board with a drop of hot glue. Make sure to cut off the suspension with a side cutter, but without leaving any sharp edges. Then carefully place the spring bloomers in the trays and stabilize them with some sheet moss so that they stand securely.

Then glue more moss around the acrylic balls and directly onto the board. If there are any small gaps, you can cover them later with decorative elements.

Tip: Your spring bloomers don't need water to bloom. If you want to water them anyway, make sure that the water does not get onto the moss to prevent mold growth.

2. Decorating the arrangement

Now it's time to use the decorative elements. Arrange your desired flowers in an atmospheric way at moss. Fix the flowers in place with a little hot glue. Complete the decoration with, for example, scattered pieces, a small bird's nest and leaves; you can also use hot glue if necessary.

3. Add a bow

For the final touch, cut off a piece of the decorative ribbon and make a bow out of it. Hold the ribbon in place in the middle and shape the ends to create the loops. Secure the bow with a thin wire and stick it discreetly to your arrangement.
