Instructions: Funny fireflies Gerd and Anneliese

Instructions No. 401

Difficulty: Beginner

Working time: 30 Minutes

Two droll fellows have landed here in your nursery. The fireflies Gerd and Anneliese are made from Acrylic balls and have a chain of lights in their stomachs. So they take care of you at night when you sleep

It's that easy

First you tear the yellow one into Straw silk paper small pieces and stick them on the outside Napkin varnish of the half eggs. When the glue is dry, you can stick the halves together and also glue the seams.
From the figure wire you must now cut twelve six-inch pieces with the side cutter. Over six of them you pull red-white over the Knitted tube, other six blue-white. This is Knitted tube. especially easy if you wrap something around the end of the figure wire

Next, melt six holes for the legs and one for the lights into the eggs with the metal tip of your hot glue gun. Please be especially careful not to burn yourself! Then you can glue the legs in the holes with hot glue and put the string of lights in the egg. Stick the ends from Knitted tube on the top and bottom so that it does not fray or slip.

For the feelers you twist one white and one colored and stick Chenille wire them on just like the legs.
Now the fireflies still need only wings and a face. Cut out the wings with the help of the template, bend Lamp foil the mouth out of one piece. Now Chenille wire. glue on the only wings, mouth and eyes and your great fireflies are ready.
